17. Learning, teaching and assessment methods and strategies

The programme draws upon an eclectic mix of teaching methods and assessment strategies. Teaching strategies and assessments methods are based around blended and online interventions.

Learning and Teaching

In line with Arden University’s “digital first” teaching focus, interventions are enriched and enhanced by the deployment of a range of digital assets including: specialist software, simulations, discussion fora, social media channels, collaborative tools, webinars and e-presentation software.

Teaching is designed to engage and inspire students via a range of innovative activities and retains a “real world” focus using interventions such as contemporary case studies and financial data sets. Teaching is largely student led; learners are expected to take ownership of their own learning journeys, reflect upon the teaching interventions, datasets, financial protocols, case and study materials and act upon tutor feedback as they develop their knowledge of and skills in business management.

Teaching activities may require students to work both collaboratively and individually, analyse case studies, participate in simulation exercises, devise solutions to “real world” problems by producing “work products”, exchange peer to peer feedback and reflect upon their own work experiences (where applicable). Teaching is enriched by a programme of industry guest lectures.

Assessment

The assessment strategy similarly centres on a strong alignment with real world organisational and business practice and embraces a range of assessment methods including work related products, presentations, report writing, portfolios and case studies. Students are expected to apply knowledge and theory explored in the modules and produce assessments that simultaneously focus on real business situations and indicate the requisite levels of academic rigour required at level 6.

The programme culminates in the submission of the independent study assessment that builds upon content examined and skills developed in the taught modules.

At the end of this course you, the student, will be able to:
Learning Outcomes
1. Appreciate and understand the key skills, technologies and competencies required to lead and manage in the contemporary organisational and financial environment.	Acquisition of knowledge and understanding through an integrated learning and teaching pedagogy that includes both asynchronous and synchronous activities drawing upon a range of academic and professional body source materials; students thus have multiple opportunities to gather knowledge and gain understandings of core concepts. (LOs 1, 2,3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10) (GA1)	Formative Feedback – informal Students will have multiple informal opportunities to receive formative feedback as they navigate the programme. The Arden virtual learning environment (VLE) is highly interactive and features embedded tools to facilitate peer to peer and student to tutor discussion opportunities, examples include discussion fora, interactive exercises and activities, self-assessment tools and reflective activities. (LOs 1-10) (GAs 1 – 5) Formative opportunities – formal As well as the plentiful opportunities for informal feedback, formative occasions will also be scheduled:
2. Analyse external organisational environments and influences.	Throughout the programme, the learner is encouraged to develop intellectual skills further by undertaking further independent study and research, i.e., in addition to “directed study” and learning. (LOs 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10) (GA5,6)
3. Identify and evaluate the interrelated contributions of the key business functions.
4. Analyse business and marketing data (qualitative and quantitative).	Analysis of real-world cases; using diagnostic skills to evaluate business and organisational performance and effectiveness. (LOs 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10) (GA4,6)
5. Identify and articulate relevant and robust business and financial solutions to meet the challenges presented by the	Independent and directed student study, supported throughout contemporary business environment.	by comprehensive classroom based and online multi-media teaching materials, activities, simulations, and resources. (LOs 1, 2, 3, 5 6, 8, 9) (GA1)	Students will be given opportunities to share draft sections of assessments with tutors and (in some modules) peers to garner feedback and guidance. This feedback can then be incorporated in submissions for the summative assessments. Students may also be able to draft plans and outlines for assessment items and receive tutor and peer feedback in a similar manner (LOs 1-10) (GAs 2, 5) The virtual learning environment (VLE) enables students to engage in targeted online discussions relating to specific aspects of the programme modules, for example, examining ethical considerations, business risks and social responsibility. Students are encouraged to not just post discussion items in the relevant fora

6. Apply and evaluate academic theories and principles to a range of business and financial contexts, challenges, and situations.	Discussion in class and online forums where students discuss and critically engage with themes emerging from the materials they learn from; this might include business problems, case studies, simulations, datasets, and industry reports. (LOs 1, 2,3, 4, 5, 6, 8) (GA2,4)
7. Develop a set of generic “life” skills including, self-awareness and management, research, argumentation, numeracy, critical thinking, and analytical ability.	Problem solving and diagnostic skills are developed throughout the programme by formative assessment tasks including problem analyses, drafting business documents and reports, analysing case studies, ethical dilemma exercises, data analyses and self-assessments. (LOs 2, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10) (GA1, 4, 5)
8. Appreciate and evaluate the importance of corporate social responsibility, global citizenship, and risk management in contemporary business and financial management.	Engaging in reflection on study activities such as: feedback (peer and tutor), cases, academic texts and articles, activities, and simulations.
